In This Issue: A Word From NANFED, Time to Renew or Join!, & Dates to Remember

A Word from President Kates

Wow! What a year it has been. We extend our gratitude to all of you, our fellow field educators and Consortia Chairs, for being connected and in community with us this year! Our board (minus Sharon who we missed dearly) created time at APM 2022 to meet in-person and set our goals for 2023. Our goal as a Board is to be responsive to you; and to provide advocacy, resources, and support that uplift and promote field educators. We aim to ensure that we are collectively evolving as the signature pedagogy.

In 2023, we will continue to curate and build our “Member Repository”; to host quarterly Consortia Chair Meetings; to honor a Field Instructor through the “Heart of Social Work” award; and to promote and support local consortia. Based on conversations during Consortia Leads meetings, changes in accreditation standards, and the large number of new field directors, here are some new things coming in 2023:

Adding 4 New Categories to the Repository:

1. Online Field Program Resources
2. Post COVID Employment Based Policies and Practices
3. Justice, Equity, Diversity, Inclusion (JEDI) Field Resources
4. Field Consortia Bylaws

Opportunity to be funded by NANFED to attend the 2023 CSWE APM Field Institute (details to come in 2023).

For those who were in Anaheim, our favorite night of APM was the time shared with many of you during a co-sponsored reception with Social Work Distance Education Consortium (SWDE) Colleagues! When field people come together the magic happens! We look forward to continuing to be in virtual conversation with you until the next APM.
